Lewis University has transfer programs for traditional undergraduate students and working adults. Each year, more than 600 students transfer to Lewis University.

Right Size
With 5,400 total students, you can take advantage of the comprehensive offerings of a large university with the accessibility and convenience of a small college.

Location
Situated on a beautiful 376-acre campus in the southwest suburbs of Chicago, we are just a few minutes away from Interstate 55 or Interstate 80.

Smaller Classes
The average class size at Lewis University is 21 in order to allow for extensive interaction between you and your professors.

Successful Graduates
You will enter a profession with the knowledge and expertise of your chosen field, and the critical thinking skills necessary to succeed in life.

Catholic and Lasallian Tradition
As part of our Lasallian heritage, we emphasize a balance between a traditional liberal arts education and practical career preparation. We are part of a network of Lasallian universities and high schools educating more than one million students worldwide in the tradition of Saint John Baptist de La Salle, the Patron Saint of Teachers.

Traditional Transfer Student
A traditional transfer student is defined as a degree-seeking student who has earned a minimum of 12 semester (18 quarter) hours of transferable credit at a regionally accredited post-secondary institution.

To apply for admission you will need to submit the following:

- Undergraduate Application for Admission (online applications available at www.lewisu.edu)
- $40 application fee
- Official transcripts from all colleges previously attended regardless of final grades or number of credits earned. You must be in good academic standing at the most recent institution.

The Office of Admission will fully review your application file to determine the likelihood of success in your intended major. When admitted, you will receive a copy of the degree requirements with your transferable credit.

Lewis will accept up to 72 transferable hours from a community college and an unlimited number of hours from another four-year university. However, you must complete your final 32 semester hours, including four upper-division courses in the major and two university mission courses, in residency at Lewis University.

Lewis University is a member of the Illinois Articulation Initiative (IAI) and complies with the General Education requirements. To assist you in choosing transferable general education core courses, visit www.itransfer.org for more information.
