UNIVERSITY EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (EAP)

It is important to recognize that dealing with disruptive or distressing behavior can be difficult. Consequently, it can be very helpful to discuss these issues with a colleague or supervisor or seek professional stress debriefing assistance through the University’s Employee Assistance Program (EAP). You may also contact the Lewis University Human Resource Department if you have questions or require additional information about the Employee Assistance Program.
WHAT IS YOUR ROLE?

Acute or prolonged distress may require the guidance of others to help with a serious problem. You may be perceived as someone who can lend a helping hand or be a good listener if someone is experiencing difficulty in his or her life. Members of the Lewis University community can play an invaluable role in helping persons who are disruptive or in distress. Your expressions of interest, concern, and compassion are important factors for a person seeking the assistance they need. The Office of the Dean of Student Services, The Center for Health and Counseling Services, Residence Life, Center for Academic Success and Enrichment (CASE), Lewis University Police Department, and the Department of Human Resources stand ready to offer assistance.

EXAMPLES OF DISTRESSED, DISTURBING OR DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOR

- Harmful to self or others
- Making suicidal threats or gestures
- Exhibiting alcohol or drug problems
- Exhibiting a pattern of bizarre behaviors
- Disrupting the living or learning community
- Withdrawing socially
- Showing a decline in the quality of work
- Preoccupation with violence
- History of aggressiveness
- Threats made as jokes
- Showing bias, discriminating against or harassing others

SUICIDAL BEHAVIOR

Warning signs might include:
- Increased alcohol and other drug use
- Feelings of hopelessness, helplessness, or worthlessness
- Risky or self-destructive behaviors
- Recent impulsiveness
- Dramatic mood changes
- Social withdrawal
- Unexpected rage or anger
- Talk of death and/or suicide

It is important to remember that asking a person if they are contemplating suicide DOES NOT give him/her the idea to do so. In fact, your openness and concern may allow the person to feel less lonely or isolated and ultimately more hopeful. Talking about suicide is NOT to be ignored.

THREATENING BEHAVIOR

If you are concerned about someone being a danger to others, you must report it. This is in the best interest of the individual and the community.

Threatening behavior might include:
- Physically violent behavior
- Verbally threatening or overly aggressive behavior
- Threatening or violent material in e-mails, letters, academic papers, or online social network posts
- Harassing or stalking behaviors
- Possession of weapon, particularly a firearm

IMPORTANT TO NOTE

If you consider the student or any other person to be an immediate danger to self or others, contact Lewis University Police Department at extension 5911 or (815) 836-5911 or 911 immediately.

WHEN TO MAKE A REFERRAL

- If your efforts to manage a behavioral issue have not resolved the problem.
- If you are concerned about the welfare of another person or yourself.
- If the person asks for help in dealing with personal issues that is outside of your role.
- If you have referred a person for assistance in the past and there seems to be no improvement or things seem to be worsening.
